

Florida Medical Clinic Selects Humedica MinedShare® for Managing Its Populations' Health and Improving Outcomes, Joins Anceta

Boston MA, November 15, 2011 – Florida Medical Clinic, a leading multi-specialty medical group in the Tampa-area, has selected Humedica MinedShare® for managing the health of its patient population and improving clinical outcomes. Humedica MinedShare will serve as a single point solution, providing the multi-specialty medical group a comprehensive view of clinical, operational and financial data to measure quality and outcomes.

"Humedica is the only solution that allows us to integrate the rich clinical data from our Electronic Health Record (EHR), E-Prescribing information, lab data and our billing information to provide a comprehensive longitudinal view of our patients. No one else can do that," said Joe Delatorre, CEO, Florida Medical Clinic. "This is not a nice-to-have, it is a must-have for Florida Medical Clinic," he added.

"As a leading provider of healthcare, Florida Medical Clinic is gearing toward improving health care management and performance as a multi-specialty physician group," said Rick Dean, Vice President of Provider Solutions, Humedica. "Actionable clinical and financial data at their fingertips will ensure that Florida Medical Clinic is prepared for the fast-changing reimbursement environment," said Mr. Dean.

Florida Medical Clinic is a member of the American Medical Group Association and a participant in Anceta – AMGA's Collaborative Data Warehouse developed in partnership with Humedica. "Florida Medical Clinic is a leading provider in Florida," said John Cuddeback, M.D., Ph.D., Anceta Chief Medical Informatics Officer, and we are excited to add their insights to the Collaborative, sharing what they're learning from the unique challenges they are facing in their complex, evolving market."

"The comparative data will allow us to identify opportunities to enhance quality, safety and cost-effectiveness - and collaboration with our peers in Anceta will help us deliver the best outcomes and value to our patients," Delatorre noted.
